To Human Resources Manager,

I am writing to express an interest in the Software Engineer position. I am a graduate student at Northeastern University. Your company's culture represents a strong belief in shared responsibility and pride without pretense. It corresponds with my values of taking responsibility and hard working. And I am certain I would make a valuable addition to your company. I enclose my resume for your information.

My major has prepared me for this engineer opportunity. It involved a great deal of programming, logical analysis, operating system maintenance and database related development. I have taken many computer science classes that have enhanced my computer skills of application development and experience in Mobile System. As an individual Android app developer, I published a game app and a map app in app store. As a result of these experiences, I am confident in program development by most of Objected-Oriented languages. Teamwork is the best way to develop programs since it can inspire everyone's ideas. And your culture represents a strong belief in cooperation. I believe I could fit easily into your team.

In addition to my experience and personal qualities, I have a passion for programming and computer related works. I am flexible, quick to pick up new skills and eager to learn from others. I am extremely enthusiastic about your company and would welcome the opportunity to contribute to your ongoing success.

Please review my attached resume for additional detail. Thanks you for your time and consideration. I look forward to your response.

Sincerely,

Yongqi Chao
